DIDYMOS WRAP SLING – AN ORIGINAL SINCE 1972

The family business DIDYMOS grew out of a classic dilemma that every parent knows: the contradiction between day-to-day life and the needs of a newborn.

As a modern woman and mother in the early 1970s, Erika Hoffmann faced the challenge of how she could continue to meet her family's needs after the birth of her twins – born as her third and fourth children – without having to give up closeness to her children. A gift from friends promised a solution: a wrap from Mexico.

Soon, the young family wouldn't be able to imagine everyday life without the children being carried in slings, and shortly after the neighbours, the press also became aware of this practical idea. The interest in Erika Hoffmann's sling was so high that she decided to create the path for babywearing for other parents and children: With courage and perseverance, she created DIDYMOS and laid the foundation for the return of babywearing to Germany with her wrap slings and the tying techniques developed for them.

Nowadays, Erika's daughters Tina and Anna Hoffmann manage today's DIDYMOS.

Like their mother, they place unconditional value on the highest quality and sustainability in production as well as on responsible social action. And they also carry on the spirit of innovation: In addition to the wrap slings, today DIDYMOS offers a wide range of baby carriers.

DIDYMOS – THE PEOPLE

The DIDYMOS team lives its principles. Every member of the company is trained as a babywearing consultant, because sharing our knowledge and great customer service are at least as important to DIDYMOS as manufacturing slings and baby carriers of the highest quality. In addition, many of the employees are mothers themselves, carry their babies or have carried them.

This means that lived everyday experiences inform the constant innovation process. DIDYMOS means reconciliation of family and career – since day one. Here, the big and small adventures of everyday family life are not excluded from everyday working life, but lived together.

OUR CORPORATE RESPONSIBILITY

What Sustainability Mean to Us

We see sustainability as something holistic that includes many factors beyond environmental awareness. For us, sustainable means: ecological, economic, regional, social, fair, diverse and healthy – not only with regard to our products, but also with regard to our corporate actions.

High Quality Means Sustainable Consumption

We hold in high regard the quality of our products because in the end it is this distinction that makes sustainable consumption possible. Babywearing is fun and we enjoy seeing the beautiful photos of stacked wraps every time - but in the end, one or two wraps are enough for an entire wearing period, knowing especially that they can then be passed seamlessly on to future generations.

Regionality

Our baby wrap slings and baby carriers are all manufactured in Germany and in nearby European countries. But it is not only within the production chain that we value short distances. In our DIDYMOS brick and mortar store, we sell our slings and carriers directly at our company headquarters in Ludwigsburg, where they can be touch-ed, tried out and borrowed at your leisure. We also work with many local instructors and babywearing advisors, whom we also train.

Corporate Social Responsibility

By Corporate Social Responsibility we mean our social responsibility as a company, which easily exceeds the minimum legal requirements. We create secure jobs in the form of various apprenticeships and work closely with organisations that support victims of domestic violence in re-entering the world of work. We regularly support projects that touch us deeply because of their special commitment, such as the missions of Doctors Without Borders. We also support the Baby Friendly initiative of the WHO and UNICEF to create the best possible environment for newborns and their parents in more and more hospitals. In addition, our company is GOTS-certified (Global Organic Textile Standard) which certifies our social and ecological responsibility.

Family-friendly Company

Nothing works without families – for this reason, their support is particularly close to our hearts. After all, we have been a family business from the very beginning – Erika Hoffmann founded DIDYMOS as a mother of four children. Part-time work is therefore common practice at DIDYMOS, and we have even been able to offer part-time apprenticeships. Flexible working hours and home office arrangements are also part of our daily standard outside of the pandemic in order to guarantee the best possible work-life balance. For the highest quality – from families for families.

Diversity

The inclusion of all people is particularly close to our hearts, both within our team and with regards to our community. We are convinced that diversity is a resource. For years, people with physical disabilities, refugee experiences and trainees from varied backgrounds have been a permanent part of our team and have enriched us with their perspectives. With regard to our community, it is a matter of course for us to produce slings and carrying aids in all sizes and for every carrying method - and we want everyone to be able to afford them. In our external appearance, we make sure to represent as much diversity as possible. We also use the personal connection with our fans worldwide to develop new products that meet their individual needs even better.

Sustainable Materials

In order to guarantee our high-quality, lovingly and fairly manufactured baby wrap slings and carriers, sustainability begins for us with the origins of the raw materials.

Our basic fibre of organic cotton is grown and harvested free of synthetic fertilisers and pesticides and is certified organic; only GMO-free cotton is used. We also like to use hard-wearing natural fibres such as hemp or linen. We take special care with our animal fibres: our warming wool, for example, comes from sheep from controlled organic animal husbandry (kbT) – i.e. absolutely no harming of the animals, such as mulesing or similar.

Transparent Production Chain

All our products are manufactured according to the strictest quality requirements and the highest standards by carefully selected partners with whom we always maintain personal contact. Our weaving mill is in Austria and our knitting mill is in the Swabian Jura in Germany. The high-quality yarns come from Italy and Austria, where they also get their bright colours. Finally, our products are sewn in Europe.

THE BABYCARRIER

Click and go! Our baby carriers meet the highest standards and make carrying easy. They offer the ideal fit for the baby and are super quick to put on. Your baby can be carried centred on front and on the back and – depending on the carrier – also on the hip. There is something for everyone in our different carrier models: the different waist straps and carrier types offer completely different wearing experiences. Our baby carriers grow with you for a very long time. For those who love carrying, our toddler carriers are the perfect companion.

THE BABY WRAP SLING

One for all: the baby wrap sling has unlimited versatility. A tiny baby is just as comfortable in it as a tired toddler. Tied snugly centred on front, with a view on the hips or comfortably on the back – the wrap offers everything you enjoy. The wrap is not only a carrying aid - it is also great fun as a swing or serves as a cuddly blanket or sunshade.

DidySnap 4u

The DidySnap 4u offers all the comfort that a full buckle can bring. The padded straps can be worn straight or crossed as desired and can be clicked under baby's bottom or the middle of baby's back. The ergonomic hip belt hugs the body comfortably and takes the baby's weight very well. Of course, the seat width and back length grow with the baby so that the carrier fits for a particularly long time.

DidyKlick 4u and DidyKlick 4u Toddler

The combination of a padded, ergonomically shaped waist belt and back panel and shoulder straps made of sling fabric results in incomparable carrying comfort: the waist belt is quickly and easily clicked into place, the straps are tied – so the carrier adapts completely individually and is particularly easy to pass between different people, as the straps do not need to be adjusted. For those who want to keep using it even with older children, the DidyKlick 4u Toddler is a companion well into toddlerhood.

DIDYPad
The benefit of comfort for the shoulders! Suitable for all carriers with sling straps. Available in different colours.

DidyTai

The DidyTai combines the lightness of the sling with the comfort of a baby carrier: the fabric waist belt accomodates a wide range of body sizes, while the shoulder straps remain the same width over the entire length. They work on the same principle as the sling and distribute the child's weight wonderfully and flexibly over the body. The DidyTai is the first baby carrier developed by DIDYMOS. It takes its name from the traditional Asian Meh Dai.

DidyGo Onbuhimo

The DidyGo is a back carrier designed for children from sitting age. It takes its name from the traditional Japanese Onbuhimo. The DidyGo is super quick to put on and makes back carrying intuitive and easy. Children enjoy the closeness and the wide view. Since the DidyGo does not need a waist belt, it has a particularly small pack size and fits in any bag. It is particularly suitable for people who like to carry „belt free“.

DidySling

The DidySling is the perfect shortcut for carrying a baby quickly and easily on the hip or centred on front. Two rings keep the sling in place. Thanks to its super-small pack size and light weight design, the sling fits in any bag. Babies love the rich view and the opportunity to communicate that the space on the hip offers.

Baby Wrap Sling

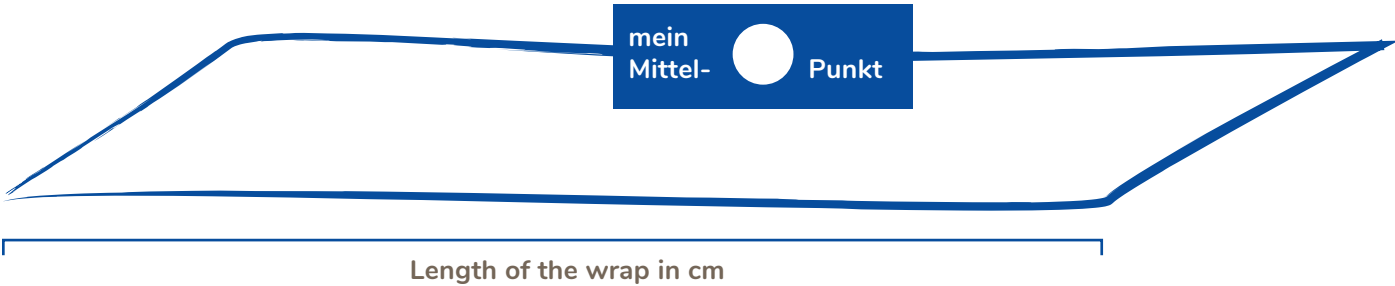

Different tying methods make the baby wrap sling a master of flexibility. It fits perfectly, distributes the baby's weight completely individually and carries baby from birth to the end of the carrying period.

THE SHAPE

DIDYMOS wraps cut into parallelograms. This makes them easier to knot and the ends fall nicer than with straight edges. The centre of each long side is marked with a small tag, the centre point, because the centre is the starting point for many tying techniques. This way it can be found in one easy step.

THE BABY WRAP SLING – CHOOSING THE LENGTH

How long a wrap should be depends on who is wearing it and how it is worn: Your own clothing size and the intended tying method help to find the right length. The basic length, with which you have the most possibilities, is the length with which a wrap cross-carry is tied.

Tip: Do not choose a wrap length that is too long.

THE BABY WRAP SLING – EXPERIENCE DIVERSITY!

Don't worry! Tying a wrap is not as difficult as you might think. Soon the technique of tying a wrap will be as easy as tying shoelaces. And if you enjoy trying things out, you can really live it up here.

A simple everyday companion or an artistic finishing touch to an outfit – our wraps are more than just a piece of fabric. The special weave gives them the perfect blend of strength and pliability, allowing them to be worn comfortably for hours on end. From easy-care cotton to seductive silk, from classic anthracite to cheerful rainbows: everyone will be happy here.

The wrap cross carry is very easy to learn and holds very small babies just as safely and comfortably as larger children.

The kangaroo carry position is particularly airy in summer and distributes the weight over the shoulders and back.

Off to the back! The rucksack carrying position can also be tied with a short wrap.

Optimal load distribution for heavy children: The Double Hammock is extremely comfortable for long distances.

Communication and view: The hip carry offers especially playful space for children.

It's fun! The wrap is also popular beyond the carrying period and can be used in a variety of ways.

MATERIAL ...

Cotton is easy to care for and hard-wearing.

Wool is temperature regulating and cosy.

Linen is particularly cool to wear in summer and is very strong.

Hemp drapes beautifully, makes heavy, sturdy cloths.

Silk is supple, delicate and airy.

Cashmere is light and incomparably soft.

... AND WEAVEING ART

The following types of weave have proven themselves for baby wrap slings, because they offer strength and at the same time a high degree of flexibility. This makes the wraps particularly comfortable when tied tightly.

Cross twill is particularly sturdy. The pattern is the same on both sides of the sling.

Doubleface offers two differently coloured fabric sides.

Lisca is a particularly soft and cuddly rib pattern.

Prima is a fine, graphic pattern.

Jaquard is the highest art of weaving: the fabric sides appear in the same pattern, but in an inverted play of colours.

The Elastic Wrap

For extra cosiness, there are our hybrid jersey wraps. They are knitted and therefore offer greater elasticity than their woven counterparts. Nevertheless, they are strong enough to carry even heavy children up to approx. 12 kg in a relaxed manner. The sewn edges make precise tying easy. We also use the familiar sling lengths for our elastic sling, so that everyone can wear a sling of the right length. Our stretchy wraps are available in many colours and are made of 100% cotton or with wool or silk mix.
